'Join us to support
Aussie food and farming'

Come and be part of this important day, and show your support for Slow Food Blue Mountains, locally-grown! There are two parts to this chestnut-inspired day, and you can choose to be involved with either one or both.

Expedition to Kookootonga Chestnut/Walnut Farm

247 Mt Irvine Road, Mount Irvine, to collect chestnuts. A sublime experience! You can choose to meet us there at 11 am (look for our sign) or be part of a car pool, meeting in Katoomba at 10 am. (Email sfbm@slowfoodaustralia.com.au or text 0423 109 270 for further car pool details.)

'Kookootonga' is one of the original farms at Mt Irvine in the Blue Mountains and has been owned by the Scrivener family since 1897. The first chestnuts and walnuts were planted over 100 years ago. The majority of the orchard was created by Bill and Ruth Scrivener (the current owners) from the 1950s. Find out more about Kookootonga, including directions, at www.kookootonga.com.au

Chestnut Cooking & Processing at a Secret Location! (2-4pm)

If you wish, return to a 'secret location' in Katoomba to help cook, peel and then freeze chestnuts – and taste a few as well as you work! (Later, these processed chestnuts will be turned into CHESTNUT PATÉ and CHESTNUT CAKE by two local small businesses for Slow Food Blue Mountains and sold at our stall, during the Leura Harvest Festival on 1 May, 2016.)
